This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

REPORT.

To the Honorable the Legislature of the State of New York:

The trustees of the State Library respectfully present this their Sixty-second Annual Report.

At the close of the year 1878, the number of volumes in the library was	107, 550
Of which there were in the general library	77, 699
In the law library	29, 851
At the close of the year 1879, the number was	110, 798
In the general library	79, 627
In the law library	31, 171
The additions in the year 1879 were:
To the general library	1, 928
To the law library	1, 320
Total additions in 1879	3, 248
Of these there were acquired by purchase	2, 059
By donation and exchange	1, 189

Law Library.

The number of books added to this department of the library during the year is greater than that of any of the twenty years preceding. This is accounted for by the fact that there were four hundred and fifty-nine volumes of the parliamentary papers of Great Britain added to this department. The increase exclusive of these papers is about the average number.

This collection of British parliamentary papers covers the period from 1806 to 1832, and forms an important addition to those previously secured.

In the general library, the additions of books have been more numerous than the average number for the last ten years, but in accordance with the tenor of the ordinance adopted by the trustees at the last annual meeting, the purchases have been more restricted to books having relation to America, than formerly.

A large number of the additions have been in state and county histories from the growing "far west."

The modern county histories of both the east and west contain much of a seemingly trivial character when looked at from our point of view as contemporary with the events therein recorded; but if we possessed to-day a tithe of such records of the early settlers and of their towns, of New York, Virginia and New England, we would all be grateful for them.

The indications are that the annual sum to be appropriated by the Legislature for the library may soon be mostly absorbed in purchasing the class of books relating to America alone, leaving but a small sum for new editions of works of general reference, works on statistics and encyclopedias.

The number of visitors to the library for the purpose of historical reference is so large as to keep the small staff employed abundantly occupied in attending to their wants, and in making the books available for their use by catalogues and subject indexes.

A supplementary subject-index is preparing of the books added to the library during the last eight years, which will be issued during the year 1881. It will be an exceedingly brief catalogue of books arranged by subjects under the author's name.

The references made to the library in letters to the librarians during the year asking for information and for manuscript copies of documents are increasing in frequency.

All which is respectfully submitted.

By order of the trustees,

ERASTUS C. BENEDICT,
Chancellor of the University.

DAVID MURRAY,
Secretary.
